DANCEZING NEWS

With vaccines being rolled out now, let's hope that it won't be too long before we can get back on the dance floor together! That's something to look forward to...

SURPRISE!

On Saturday 2nd January, some of us gave Mark a birthday surprise with a little dance party via Zoom. This was organised by Claire, who had hoped to pull out all the stops for his special day, but unfortunately was unable to due to the pandemic!

We danced some of Mark's favourite dances, going right back to one of the first dances he learnt - Ruby Ruby to Moves Like Jagger!

After dancing, which was quite entertaining via Zoom, because there was a lag between the sound and the vision, making it seem as if we were dancing out of time and also some people were upside down and some were back to front! (Perhaps not so different to our regular classes?!) we raised a toast to the birthday boy and he was subjected to a rendition of 'Happy birthday'! All I can say is that it's a good job that we dance for a hobby and not sing!

Thank you to everyone who joined in and made it good fun xx

CHALLENGE

The other day I received an email from 'FutureMe'. At first, I almost deleted it, thinking that perhaps it was a spam message, but then realised that it was an email that I had written to myself a year and a half ago! I had forgotten all about it. It was really interesting to read about things that were happening in my life at the time, fun things as well as concerns or worries. I had also included what I hoped for for the future. (Strangely enough, a pandemic and lock down were not on my wish list!)

Why not give this a go yourself? It's a good thing to do and gives you a chance to reflect on the passage of time and give you valuable insights.

It will give you a snapshot of this moment in time and will be nostalgic to look back to see what you were thinking and how you were feeling at this time.

Perhaps write about your goals - financial, spiritual, personal. What are you excited about or looking forward to? What is worrying you at the moment? What is your favourite book? Who are the important people in your life. These are just some ideas.

You can do this using the website: Futureme.org
